SONATA FOR

HARP AND PIANO

[IN ONE MOVEMENT]

Carlos Salzedo

Full Score, Net $1.50

G. SCHIRMER, INC. · NEW YORK

NOTE

Read all notes natural unless preceded by a sharp or a flat. The natural sign is used only occasionally, by way of precaution.

Harp

In this Sonata, harmonics are written where they actually sound; they are made on the string an octave lower.

Explanation of the new harpistic signs used in this Sonata can be found in Carlos Salzedo's "Modern Study of the Harp".

Piano

In regard to the pedaling, the sonorous effect of the work having been calculated with precision, pianists are requested to observe faithfully the composer's indications.

The sign ←—(Ped.) means that the pedal must not be changed.

(The first performance of this Sonata was given by the International Composers' Guild, March 4, 1923, in New York, with Marie Miller at the harp and the composer at the piano.)

Toute altération (♯, ♭) n'a de valeur que pour la durée de la note qu'elle précède. A moins d'indication contraire on doit donc considérer chaque note comme non altérée. Le bécarre (♮) n'est employé qu'occasionellement, par mesure de précaution.

Harpe

Dans cette Sonate, les sons harmoniques sont écrits en sons réels; ils sont produits sur la corde à l'octave basse de la note indiquée.

L'explication des nouveaux signes harpistiques employés dans cette Sonate se trouve dans "L'Étude Moderne de la Harpe" de Carlos Salzedo.

Piano

En ce qui concerne la pédale—l'effet sonore de cette Sonate ayant été exactement calculé—les pianistes sont priés d'observer strictement les indications de l'auteur.

Le signe ←—(Ped.) signifie que la pédale ne doit pas être renouvellée.

(La première audition de cette Sonate fut donnée par l'International Composers' Guild, le 4 Mars 1923, à New York : Marie Miller à la harpe et l'auteur au piano.)
